JACKSON — The Jackson Hole Land Trust increased its inventory of protected land by nearly 300 acres in 2013.

The owners of a 40-acre parcel near Bondurant donated the land to the trust.

The land is part of a corridor of private land between Bridger-Teton National Forest and Bureau of Land Management property. It includes wetlands, meadows, sagebrush and forest where elk, moose, mule deer and raptors live.

The land is near other parcels protected by the trust.

Since it was founded in 1980, the land trust has permanently protected more than 23,000 acres of open space, critical wildlife habitat, historic ranches and land considered part of vital scenic vistas in and near Jackson Hole.
